Nelson Clears Way to Solve State's Financial Crisis

Party Drops Resolution on Sales Tax

BY JAMES BARTELT
Post-Crescent News Service

EAU CLAIRE — Democrats took right up where they left off Sunday at a sparsely-attended closing session of their state convention, arguing about a sales tax.

When 20 minutes of debate was ended, the convention had sustained by a close margin a resolution committee decision to withdraw a resolution supported Saturday expressing confidence a tax compromise could be worked out within the party's traditional stand against a "general sales tax."

Since fewer than 200 of the 1,500 registered delegates attended the session, the meaning of the action was cloudy. The committee had pulled back the resolution by a 123 count.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson could claim a token victory because a position on the tired subject of the sales tax was kept from the record of the resolutions of the convention. But the move to get the convention to act was led by those who said night.

Nelson should get the vote of confidence as included in the resolution.

Resolution Withdrawn

The resolution was withdrawn from the report of the Resolutions Committee after Nelson told the convention Saturday night that his duty as governor must rank above party position in him.

Rayburn Rallies After Weakening In Texas Hospital

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — House Speaker Sam Rayburn, 79, remained seriously ill with incurable cancer today after a weekend during which he weakened and then rallied.

The Texas Democrat has been at Baylor Hospital since Oct. 2. In its morning bulletin Sunday the hospital said Rayburn's condition was "only fair," that he seemed weaker and had "periods of confusion."

A bulletin Sunday night described Rayburn as seeming more alert but said that there had been no basic change in his condition, which was termed serious.

The bulletin also said the initial course of treatment with 5-fluorouracil and FUDR has been completed.

"After a period of observation, if his condition permits, treatment will be resumed with FUDR or irradiation therapy or both," the report said.

The drug is being used in an attempt to prolong Rayburn's life. It is not curative.

The hospital said Rayburn had been seen by Dr. Anthony R. Current, director of the Cancer Research Hospital, University of Wisconsin Medical School.

Sounds Heard Afar, Tinkle, Tinkle Paar

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Tiger, tiger, burning brightly
On TV, but not so brightly
How immortal! What a Star!
Tinkle, tinkle, Mister Paar.

Tell us, from thy gaudy learnings,
All of Russia's secret yearnings.
Of its police and ways—
You were there for six whole days!

You have made the press aghast.
You have scripted it first and last.
How it fears fine and thy pratings
How it quakes to read thy ratings!

Do not leave the press alive;
Kill it off, from channel five.
Stop the press, and when you do
We can get our facts from you

Ere ye tell us of your brightness
And thy cleverness and rightness
And thy daughter's dimpled toes
Let's hear the news from one who knows

Tiger, tiger, like a child.
Make your charges! Make them wild!
Damn your critics who have mocked thee
Conquer Congress which has hoisted thee

Then, O great one, please effuse
Give us the uncensored news!
Tell us facts not in the press,
But please, O please, do not digress.

Do not holt to praise your glory
Nor reiterate a story;
Do not say you are a star;
Do not tinkle, Mister Paar.

Tool and Die Makers At Dearborn Defy UAW Order to Return to Jobs

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. resumed production of cars today at half of its 16 assembly plants after a 13-day strike by the United Auto Workers Union.

But it was uncertain how soon the company would be back in full production.

An insurgent group of tool and die makers at the Rouge industrial complex in Dearborn, Mich., defied orders of the UAW leadership to join a back-to-work movement of Ford's 120,000 production employees.

Allies Disagree on Buildup for NATO

Stronger Conventional Forces Sought by Bonn Government

BY WILLIAM MCGAFFIN

WASHINGTON — "No one conventional strength is intended to smash his head with a gun or an alternate weapon."

This picturesque phrase was used by Franz-Josef Strauss, West German defense minister, to and is being led by the United States.

In other words, as high U.S. officials described it, "we want buildup project is being met with to have the capability of meeting widely varying reactions."

For instance, the United States is only aiming for about a 20 per cent increase in the strength of the NATO defense forces.

Health Benefits Will be Open to Guard Families

MADISON (AP) — Health care benefits under the Federal Medicare program will be available to dependents of members of the 22nd National Guard Division.

The State Medical Society has announced that the government has contracted with the society and Mutual of Omaha for surgical-medical and hospital benefits for dependents. The 22nd Division enters active duty today.

Although the government generally will not pay for civilian dental care, it will provide for emergency, outpatient, maternity, postnatal and medical and surgical care.

Ray E. Koenig, Medicare coordinator for the State Medical Society, said Friday that the 22nd Division's call to federal duty will "substantially increase" services to dependents in the next 12 months.

Medicare is a federally sponsored, locally administered program which has provided $388,879 in surgical-medical benefits during the past year in 5,515 cases involving care to Wisconsin dependents of servicemen.

The men had appealed their convictions in Municipal Court to Circuit Court. Both appeals were dismissed.

Joseph M. Weber, 28, route 1, Appleton, was fined $100 and lost his driver's license for one year. He was arrested March 20, 1960 by the state patrol, and pleaded innocent of drunken driving March 22. He was found guilty in Municipal Court March 31, 1960.

Douglas Laux, route 3, was fined $150 and loses his driver's license for a year. He was arrested August 24, 1958 by county police after an accident.

Michigan Rewrites Its Constitution

The state of Michigan has called a convention to write a new constitution. Whatever comes out of the convention will be the fourth constitution for the state. The first was adopted in 1835 and went into effect when Michigan was admitted to the union in 1837. That constitution was rewritten in 1850 and the present constitution was rewritten and became effective Jan. 1, 1909. The present Michigan constitution has been amended 69 times since.

In contrast, Wisconsin's constitution has not been rewritten since Wisconsin became a state in 1848. However, it has been amended 61 times.

Writing a state constitution is a big undertaking. In session now in Lansing are 144 delegates, including 99 Republicans and 45 Democrats. The number of delegates is the same as the number of legislators. There are 110 members of the House of Representatives and 34 members of the State Senate. Eleven women are among the 144 delegates.

The state legislature voted $2 million to finance the work of the convention. Each delegate will receive $1,000 a month in salary plus expense money for two round trips home each month. It is believed that approximately $1,080,000 will go for salaries and the remaining $920,000 will be used to pay convention employees and buy supplies and pay the rent on the convention hall. Thus it is expected that the convention will run for possibly 7½ months. As a preparation for the opening of the convention, the W. K. Kellogg Foundation supplied $85,000 to finance the work of the governor's planning commission which found a suitable building and had it properly equipped. This work is regarded as a great saving since it probably will save about two months time for the delegates which means a saving of $288,000 in salaries alone.

The committee will have a great mass of material to work with in preparing its convention draft. Other committees named earlier by the governor have prepared recommendations covering hundreds of pages of material which eventually will boil down to basic proposals for constitutional changes in the various areas. These recommendations were worked out by leaders in government, education, labor, business and the professions. Some of the general proposals include a 4-year term for the governor; the power to name his own cabinet; consolidation of more than 120 state agencies into 20 or fewer logical divisions, and an autonomous civil service commission with power to fix pay, but with more non-civil service appointments for the governor's personal staff and principal department heads; the nonpartisan election of judges, the creation of a court of appeals intermediate to the circuit court and the supreme court; uniform salaries among the judicial classes and elimination of the fee system for justices of the peace.

There are proposals to give the legislature more freedom in laying taxes, to allow taxation of property at different rates, to permit an income tax geared to the federal tax, allow the legislature to borrow up to $100 million and to remove restrictions on the state's right to take part in "internal improvements"; to continue earmarking gasoline and weight taxes for highway purposes; to continue earmarking the sales tax for schools and local government.

There is a proposal to eliminate the property ownership requirement for voting on school spending; another for a longer term for the superintendent of public instruction and enlargement of his powers; a plan to require that each school district provide kindergarten through twelfth grade classes; and there is a proposal for a super school board to coordinate with various state universities and colleges.

Another proposal which is expected to bring on a hot battle is for the apportionment of the legislature which would allocate the House strictly on a population basis and put more emphasis on population in the Senate but some on geographical or economical factors.

A similar rewriting of Wisconsin's constitution has been proposed several times. Advocates of a Wisconsin constitutional convention point out that our basic law is over 100 years old and many provisions in it are unsuited to the business of today. This is true but it also is true that Wisconsin's 100-year-old constitution is more progressive in many ways than Michigan's which is only 52 years old.

Writer Advocates Drastic Steps To End Communist Aggression

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Even as you read this article we plan concessions to the Russians on Berlin. We suffer this corruption because we will it on ourselves. We allow ourselves to be fooled by politicians who are long on mouth and short on deeds. We have fought at least seven major wars in defense of this republic, losing only the Korean War. We started a trend when we fought to lose and made the attempt to disgrace our field commanders in the process. And now, the Russians asking for Berlin is like asking for New York City, since Western Germany represents the true capitalist country in all of Europe. This trend, I believe, is a direct result of left-wingers in our strategic administrative offices.

This country should take the initiative immediately:

1. Ridding the administration of our left-wing elements and replacing them with men of real devotion to the preservation of our republic...
2. Enact a universal military training act, under which all students completing high school or vocational school, would undergo a rigid three months training in basic warfare. Females would be trained in first aid, mass feeding techniques, etc.
3. Complete embargo of trade with communist countries and satellites. However, put teeth in this thing. Mete out death penalties for those involved and sink to the bottom of the oceans the ships of our allies, if necessary, to insure the compliance to the principle no aid or comfort to a mortal enemy.
4. Destruction of the Castro regime with the full military might of the United States.

5. Declaration to the peoples of the world that those who revolt communist oppression will be aided with military supplies and nuclear air support of the United States, if necessary.

On the House

Sounds Heard Afar,
Tinkle, Tinkle Paar

Act like any manly man
Weep in anguish when you can;
Be not fearful of the foe
But tell us all the news you know.

Tell us, please, what makes Japan;
Tell us this, thou knowing man
Say ought you know of Far East Views
We're in hunger for the news.

Tiger, tiger, thou art peerless
Thou art bold and thou art fearless
Tell us later Mister Paar
Say again how great you are.

But tell us just a little later;
There is bigger news, and greater.
Tell us, ere you have to sell,
About the goodness of Fidel.

Tell again of all thy views
(From thy cognizance of news
And the depth of thy innateness)
All of Castro's noble greatness.

You have told us; some agree
You'll go down in history!
Though you've muddled wondrous facts;
You gave Sullivan the axe!

You're a fighter, Mister Paar!
You have told us that you are
You've the wisdom of the sages
You'll be quaint throughout the ages.

Gird thy loins in garlands pretty
Be thou, if thou can be, witty
Stab at Winchell for your mirth
Chase Kilgallen off the earth.

Then in between the other acts
You must martial up your facts;
Bring the wailing world your prattle
But do not stay too long in battle.

You have fought so loud and long
Even if your facts are wrong,
To nobler things you can't aspire
So now, please, Mister Paar, retire.

Make some charges recklessly,
Speak your piece and quickly flee,
The sounds you make are heard afar:
Tinkle, tinkle, Mister Paar.

Republican's Job

Need for a 'Will to Win'
In Cold War, Says Laird

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK

Post Crescent Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R. Marshfield, believes that Republicans already have a tailor-made two-fold job to do in the next session of the 87th Congress, which certainly should keep them busy and out of mischief.

Pointing out that the "ill-fated invasion of Cuba should not have been approved by the president unless this nation was willing to follow through," Laird believes the Cuban affair probably was a factor in what seems to be Premier Khrushchev's plan to "test our will in Berlin, with renewed nuclear tests and with every other device he deems fit."

It is a part of the Republicans' job next year, he says, to show that we do have that "will to win" in Berlin.

The second part of the GOP program, according to Laird, is to continue efforts to curb inflationary spending of the administration, and thus put a stop to greater bureaucracy and centralized control in the Washington government.

One facet of the task to be accomplished in 1962, Laird said, is "winning the cold war by abandoning the out-dated, reactionist, ill-conceived policy of mere containment of international communism apparently advocated by the present administration, and substituting a will to win."

Describing the present foreign policy of this country as "probably the saddest tale of all," Laird charged that "the present administration has made it equally clear that we now prefer a limited war to protect such commitments as Berlin."

Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower Carlisle P. Runge, the former WU law professor now is instrumental in deciding which troops will go to Europe and which will stay home. It's part of his job to direct troop movements in the cold war and to decide how many troops will be needed in sensitive places all over the world.

Rep. John W. Byrnes, R. Green Bay, a top ranking member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee says the reason why his group did not act on President Kennedy's tax recommendations this year is that they were so hastily and defectively drawn and so "contradictory in impact" that the committee found it impossible to act intelligently upon them."

So it seems that the Wisconsin state legislature is not the only lawmaking body with tax troubles.

Rep. Alvin E. Okonski R. Jingo Admits Paar Show Has Attraction

Difficult to Pass Up Chance to See Greats of Entertainment World

BY JINGO
The world is made up of all kinds of people. However, as it looks to Jingo these last few days, practically everyone is a fan of Jack Paar.

Somehow people got the impression somewhere that Jingo is not a No. 1 fan of Steve Allen's replacement on the Tonight show. After weathering a back-breaking schedule for five years, Jack surely has won admiration if not actual adulation. Perhaps the difference shows.

Paar's show — and its longevity is ample proof — has an attraction that approaches addiction. Watch a week and you've had it!

One of Jingo's "fans" accused him of not watching Jack and hence criticizing off-the-cuff instead of on-the-nose. It's not true! Jingo must confess he's tried to break the habit, but it didn't take.

The essence of the attraction. It appears to Jingo at any rate, is the roll of relaxed, intelligent, talented guests who appear on the panel and are, most of the time, handled adroitly. Creative artists are generally very interesting and never more so than when they are more or less off guard. Who would pass up meeting — even vicariously — the entertainment giants who appear on the Paar show?

One of Jingo's "fans" made him promise not to lambast Jack any more, so let's pass by comment on Jack's unhappy penchant of trying to be more than the catalyst for entertaining conversation.

Thursday night he admitted he had a hole in his head and what more need be said!

Federal Communications Chairman Newton Minow has had some rough things to say about television, statements that have given rise to several fine TV satires and created an easily recognized running gag. His second-hand exposure on the medium has made him a better known personage than his short service would have otherwise.

Now one of his acts may raise some real TV ire. He's allowed his wife to take a small part in a movie. It's Otto Preminger's "Advise and Consent" which takes Washington by storm with recruitment in both houses and all along Capitol Hill.

The TV series "Gunslinger," which Jingo saw as a possible tribute to the Fox Cities area's Civil War Third Cavalry, folded after 12 episodes. State's Operating Cost Hits Record

MADISON (AP)—The cost of operating the state of Wisconsin in the fiscal year ending last June 30 reached a new high of $739.4 million—about $53 million more than in the previous year.

The Bureau of Management said that the expenditures left the state with a $915.739 deficit, which must be made up by the Legislature with a deficiency appropriation when it returns to the capitol late this month. The state can not go into debt.

Of the total expenditures, $179.2 million went for administration and about $170 million for education. Another $108.3 million was spent on public health and welfare and $119.8 million was returned to localities.

had not reached at-the-plant agreements when the UAW's executive board met Sunday to review the situation.

The board ordered the Rouge workers back to their jobs, saying continuance of a local-level strike there "over the few remaining unresolved issues" was not justified.

The board said, however, negotiations would continue "in the effort to find satisfactory answers to the remaining legitimate problems." It added Ford had agreed to this course.

Difficult Negotiations

There were indications from the board that the Walton Hills dispute might be a thorny one. The UAW chiefs said the company was "attempting to cancel out" established work rules there and they supported "the legitimate position of the local union in insisting upon a continuance."

The UAW authorized a company-wide strike against Ford Oct. 3 to support its national contract demands, then when agreement was reached on a new overall economic package last Thursday, it authorized locals without at-the-plant agreements to continue striking.

Strike At St. Louis

At one plant where agreement was reached Sunday, however, a strike had been in progress since July 26. That strike was at Ford's St. Louis assembly plant, where 1,000 had walked out in a dispute over production standards and relief time accorded workers.

When the St. Louis workers left their posts, there still was an aversion to the committee in order to estimate a six-day run of 1961 back Nelson. This opened up a models in the pipelines. When it repetition of the sales tax argument was up these Fords, the St. Louis plant is slated to switch to twin Sen. Norman Sussman, Milwaukee, and Frank Wallack, Milwaukee CIO leader.

"We can not leave this convention without giving the governor a vote of confidence," Zbrensky said.

Wallick said the withdrawn resolution expressed the sense of Nelson's speech.

"The fact we were in a frenzy of emotion yesterday doesn't mean we didn't wake up with sober heads this morning," he said.

Sussman accused Wallick on going back on labor's traditional stand against a sales tax. Wallick demanded to know what the new one cent tax on cigarettes for the new recreation lands program was if it was not a sales tax.

"That's not a sales tax. That's an excess tax," explained Sussman.

On a standing vote, the committee's keeping the resolution off the floor was sustained 81-73.

Supreme Court Backs Desegregation Ruling

Two Acts of Louisiana Legislature To Aid State's Effort Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court affirmed today a decision holding unconstitutional two acts of the Louisiana Legislature clearly wanted parents, teachers and students to aid that state's efforts and other interested persons to prevent racial desegregation.

The decision was given May 4, 1961, by a special three-judge federal court in New Orleans. It was appealed to the high tribunal by among other things, the Justice Department's intervention in racial litigation in federal court in Louisiana. He contended the court said by the United States took part in such cases without authority in law and ruling without the hearing of arguments.

In a brief order, the high court decreed a new trial to affirm was granted. The for Luther Bailey, a Negro under year's Lumumba riots." This was a reference to antiwhite demonstrations in Lagos, capital of this former British colony of 35 mil-

Superb ActingBritish Troupe Outdoes Itself in Shakespearean Play, 'Coriolanus'BY JAY JOSELYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

No proof is needed for the poetic and theatrical genius of William Shakespeare; but if the argument were as strong and moving as that which the Theatre Outlook troupe presented Sunday night at Stansbury Theater, one would feign obtrusiveness to be convinced anew periodically.

The British players capped their three-night repertory stand at the Lawrence Music-Drama Center in "The Tragedy of Coriolanus" that pales any and all productions that have appeared on those boards in its short history and will surely plague any future productions with comparison.

Their "School for Scandal" Friday was sumptuous, charming, elegant and altogether entertaining, but it faded to a divestment in retrospect after "Coriolanus." Andre Davis' "Four Men" Saturday was an interesting piece of modern work, but in comparison it was a dismal failure beside "Coriolanus."

And in presenting Shakespeare as he—and every other playwright—should be presented, with taste, training, energy, incomparable skill, the Liverpool visitors gave the lie to the Bard.

Westbrook Great

"The play is the thing" could hardly be cited as a motto for the performance. Shakespeare's characters are bigger than life and the actors must eat the meat Caesar ate so that lesser beings peep between their legs when they undertake the soaring beauty of his poetry and the agony and ecstasy of his emotions. Such were the giants that undertook "Coriolanus" Sunday.

John Westbrook was the giant among giants Sunday night in the title role. His physique was as Atlas bearing the global weight of the tragedy. His voice was an instrument tuned for the Bard's "Coriolanus" Sunday.

His nonappearance brought loud boos.

Lyle Shoemaker, San Diego, who handles the ring's publicity in the United States, said Walsh had checked in at a Tijuana motel Saturday but efforts to locate him Sunday were without avail.

Hobby ClubHere's a Game in Which You Can Use Your Name

BY CAPPY DICK

Fall always brings a few stormy days when it is far better to play in the house than outdoors, so here is a game to play with your name. You'll need pencil, paper and perhaps a dictionary.

Print your first name at the top of the paper. By changing only one or two letters at a time form new words, continuing until you have finally formed one that is the name of some living thing. Like the witches in the fairy tales, you will then have changed yourself into something else.

Suppose your name is Norman. By changing one letter, you become "normal." By changing another letter you become "formal". By changing two letters you become "former." By changing one more letter you become "farmer." Thus, in four steps you have changed yourself from Norman to a farmer.

A boy named Bob Smith decides to transform both his names at once, so he goes from Bob Smith to "hog smite," then to

"dog spitz" and finally to "dog spitz." In just three moves he has changed himself into a Spitz dog!

By changing two letters at a time a boy named David quickly transforms himself to "cavil" and then to "camel." A boy named Frank changes one letter at a time to "crank" and then to "crane."

The illustration above shows how a girl named Mary makes five changes to transform herself into a lamb.

See how much fun it is? Get busy with your own name and see how few changes you must make to transform yourself into some living thing.

Wives of Institute of Paper Chemistry Students Entertain At Roaring 20s Party

Wives of first year students at the Institute of Paper Chemistry were guests of honor at a "Roaring 20s" costume party Friday evening in the lounge of the Institute.

Fourth year wives were hostesses at the gala affair. Mrs. William Trice was chairman.

Mrs. Fred Vermillion and Mrs. Paul Johnson cavort around the old fashioned beer keg at Friday's party for Institute wives. A "Roaring 20s" theme prevailed throughout the evening. Below, Mrs. William Trice, Mrs. Richard Barker and Mrs. Frank Guthrie, billed as the "Four Flipped Flappers," go into their act for the guests of honor, first year wives.

Mrs. David McMaster, right, conducts a radio interview with first year wives getting their impressions of the school and of life on West Court. From left are Mrs. Lee Showalter, Mrs. Tyrone Goodart and Mrs. Paul Grimm. At left, Mrs. Raymond Jones, all decked out in her flapper costume, announces the acts for Friday's show.

Your Problems

Ann Suggests Specialist Find Cause of Girl's Skin Disorder

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My problem is too personal to discuss with my mother so I am writing to you for an answer. I've been dating since I was 16. I'm almost 19 now and my boy friend is 20. We've been going steady for three months. It's becoming awfully hard to keep our emotions in check. Several weeks ago my face began to break out. I've tried not using soap, as my girl friend suggested, but it didn't help. My steady told me last night that my pent-up emotions are making my skin break out. He says female prudishness is unnatural and that my glands are rebelling. It sounds very logical. Is this true or false? — Miss Mess

DEAR MESS: Are the fellows still using that one? I thought it went out with the Stutz Bearcat. If your boy friend's theory was correct, I'd have to be worried about all the girls with lovely complexions. See a dermatologist. And while you're there ask him if what your boy friend is in mind will help your complexion. You can then set the guy straight with the information you get from the physician. And by all means thank him for offering himself up for purely medicinal purposes. It was indeed noble.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You make me sick. That letter from "Doc's Old Doll" who was married to a man younger than herself was just darling. And then you came along with that crumby answer and spoiled every-thing. I happen to know of several cases where the woman is older was graduated from Appleton and the marriages are wonderful. young husbands are running like how old is that picture of you at 60? was downright mean. Are you the top of your column? — Former Fan

Dear Former: I made it abundantly clear in my letter to Doc's Old Doll that I, too, knew of some exceptions and that she and Doc certainly sounded content. As a rule, however, I don't recommend marriage between a man and an older woman.

For me, I don't know which picture you're looking at because the newspapers change them around, but no picture is more than two years old. And incidentally, I'm 48. Petunia. Any more questions?

DEAR ANN: My husband operates business from our home. I work in an office and I'm excellent at detailed bookkeeping. I've offered dozens of times to set up an efficient system for him. I even bought ledger cards, but he insists on doing things his own way.

"His own way" is half-baked and it takes forever. His accountant has told him his methods are sloppy and that he ought to let me help him. But the man is plain stubborn. How can I get him to change his mind? — W.B.S.

Dear W.B.S.: You can't, so give up. You and your husband sound plenty competitive and I suspect he'd prefer to stumble around forever rather than allow you to show him how to do something. Ask his accountant to help him set up an efficient system. And stay out of the act yourself.

To learn the booby-traps of teen-age drinking, write for Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Drinking," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TO ME

Setting in Sleeves Repeated

BY PATRICIA SCOTT

Because of the enormous number of requests I have received, I am again writing on setting in sleeves. This is a simple method and I think it will make your job easier

First, a few warnings: a) basting is absolutely necessary. Pat Scott — no ifs, ands or buts, b) a press mitt or tailor's ham will make it much easier to press a rounded shoulder. c) never trim cap of sleeve. It is always larger than the armhole so that the cap will fit easily over the shoulder. Extra fullness is necessary for good fit and comfort and the extra fullness is later taken out.

Make two rows of basting stitches, by machine or hand, around the cap, between the notches, with one row about 1-16 inch within seam allowance and the second row $\frac{1}{4}$ inch from the first (fig. 1). Pull underneath basting threads and gather cap just a little. Pin sleeve to armhole holding inside of sleeve toward you, and matching notches, shoulder seams and underarm seams. Place pins as illustrated in figure 2. Adjust gathers from notch to $\frac{1}{2}$ inch of shoulder seam, on front and back (fig. 2).

When sleeve fits perfectly, passes. You hold: S, 7 5 3. H. K 8, D, K J 8 3 2, C, Q 5 3. What do you say?

Answer. Bid two or three no trump. There must be a combined count of at least 23 points, and your length in diamonds is worth a point or so. Bid game if your partner is a fine card player, otherwise, bid two no trump.

BAST NO-SEW

Family of Space Program Newlyweds Head on Move to Capital To Reside in Milwaukee

BY JOY MILLER

MOORESTOWN, N.J. (AP)—On Oct. 27 a new family will move to Washington.

There's pretty Docky Holmes; her two daughters aged 12 and 16, her dog, Rum $\frac{1}{2}$; and her husband, D. Brainerd, who takes over a new job the first of next month.

Like any other homemaker facing a change of address Mrs. Holmes has her hands full now packing things no one can bear to part with, selling domestic impedimenta such as lawn mowers and restraining Rum from exuberantly knocking down prospective buyers of their seven-room ranch house.

If there is a great deal of fullness in the sleeve cap, snip off wedges in the sleeve seam allowance so seam edge will press without leaving ridges or press marks. Press seam toward sleeve. Seam is pressed toward neckline only when it is gathered and very full.

Run a second row of stitching about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch from the first row on the seam allowance. To finish raw edges, either pin edges or trim seams about $\frac{1}{4}$ inch from second row of stitching and overcast both edges. Equality Doesn't Imply Sameness and we want to stay that way. Some parents seem to believe that is why the schools do not that "created free and equal" and will not try to force all the means that nobody shall be children into one form, or one perior—or have an outstanding dead level. Should any such thing difference from their child. If happen the freedom to live by their child cannot have the same and for would be in danger. abilities, or the same dress, or belong to the same club, nobody his own mental, social, physical else should. To them the democratic way means that all other study and helpful experience, on children should be forced to his own power. In that way he gains equality. That is practicing democracy.

Now, as a matter of hard fact, no two children are alike, physically or mentally. Each has his particular gifts. Their differences are precious and should be developed when they are useful or inspiring or both.

If the democratic way of life is to mean anything it should mean that each of us, old and young alike, should be allowed to develop them for the benefit of society at large as well as for our own happiness.

Parents in Error

When a parent wants a rule-laid down to force all the children, all the pupils, to wear a school uniform so that none shall look any nicer than another, or wants secret societies like the frats, or the little group clubs the younger ones love to organize, abolished, under the banner of democracy or equality, two very unpleasant qualities of the human race, under these names and do his no good as well.

The facts remain as they were. The individual will remain an individual with all the highs and lows of his personality. The homely girl, the dull boy, the bright pupil, and gifted one, will still be himself rule or no rule.

Trying to bring everybody to an even level in society, or in any of society's activities is impossible. This is why communism cannot succeed. And who wants it to? We do not worship the state. It is intended for our convenience, to serve we who make it and not to intrude on our private lives.

We are a nation of individuals

Soviet Military Has Big Say In Upcoming Party Congress

Defense Head Backs Khrushchev, Party Controlled Leadership

BY WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press News Writer

The bulky shadow of the Soviet military will hover about the 22nd Soviet Communist congress Tuesday as it takes up a draft economic program advertised as heralding an abundant life for Soviet people within 20 years.

There are signs that the military has placed roadblocks in the path of the program, which the Communists call a "charter for humanity" and a prospective "fa-

WASHINGTON — People in some parts of the United States still seem strange to those in other parts.

Kenneth Holm, assistant secretary of the interior, recently illustrated how an easterner ran smack into the wild west. Evidently he didn't know it was there.

Said Holm: "I am sometimes amazed at the notions some people have about my state, South Dakota.

Anyway, they tell the story of a movie company filming wild west scenes along the main highway there.

"Several hundred Sioux Indians, who are citizens of South Dakota, were employed in this episode. They were made up in full war paint.

Elm Tree Drivers Win Appeals Case

Company Must Pay Unemployment to Dismissed Workers

The 15 truck drivers dismissed from Elm Tree Bakery will get unemployment benefits, a State Industrial Commission appeal board has decided.

The finding was in answer to an appeal by Elm Tree Bakery of an earlier Industrial Commission decision that the drivers should be allowed benefits. It resulted from a fact finding hearing by the appeal board Aug. 10 and 11.

Elm Tree Bakery originally claimed the workers were not eligible for jobless pay because they were dismissed for misconduct connected with their employment.

Attorney Gordon P. Gill, who represents the bakery, said the decision would probably be appealed to the Circuit Court at Dane County.

"We feel the commission made a serious error in fact and in applying the law to those facts," he said. "We are studying the matter intently."

Robert Schlieve, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 503, said he is confident the courts will rule in favor of the workers and in support of the commission.

Parolee Faces Federal Count

Marshals Pick Up Arkansas Man Who Planned Robbery

Luther C. Moncrief, 53, arrested in New London Friday for conspiring to rob the Shiocton bank, was picked up by two U.S. district marshals today to be returned to Milwaukee for trial in U.S. District Court.

Moncrief, who is being held on $10,000 bond, was released on parole from Leavenworth Penitentiary Sept. 24.

He was jailed Feb. 2, 1939 for assault and armed robbery of a branch post office in Arkansas, and sentenced to 28 years. According to a warrant the marshals carried, he will have to serve 3,025 more days of his sentence for the parole violation.

He is being charged with conspiracy to rob the bank. Moncrief, who was born in Texas, listed Arkansas as his home.

Appleton to Get $250,000 in Federal Aid for Sewage Plant

Grant to Help Pay for $2 Million Addition Ordered by State

Appleton is scheduled to receive $250,000 in federal aid to help build a $2 million addition to a sewage treatment plant.

Theodore F. Wieniewski, director of the state committee on water pollution, has notified the city it has been given a top priority listing to receive the money this year.

It is hoped contracts can be let by February, 1962, so that construction can start the next month. Edwin Dusynski, director of public works said.

The state committee has ordered the city to build secondary treatment facilities and two more preliminary sedimentation tanks at the primary plant. The committee ordered secondary treatment following a water pollution study which showed raw sewage flowing into the Fox River from the city plant was not sufficiently treated.

Delayed A Year — The city filed application for the general federal grant in June, 1960, after the city and the council approved asking for aid. Appleton failed to receive a priority listing last year, and the application was placed on file in the city plant was not sufficiently treated.

Plans — The city will be mailed to the city in several weeks officially offering the money to the city and asking for formal action by the city to accept it.

Once this has been done, Dusynski said, the state committee will have to approve plans and specifications for the addition.

Copies of bids received and the contract awarded will have to be sent to the state office, also.

Plans and specifications have been drawn by Greeley and Hansen, consulting engineers, Chicago.

In September, the city awarded a $22,700 contract to Central Con-

Lawrence Says

U.N. Losing Its Respect for Free Speech

'Censure of South African Reflects Demise of Morality'

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The United Nations is rapidly developing into a political cabal—an organization without respect for morality or the principles of democracy.

By a vote of 67 to 1, the U.N. has denied the right of free speech to one of its members — the Republic of South Africa — whose foreign minister expressed criticisms considered "insulting" by some other countries. But no such motion of "censure" was even uttered when Nikita Khrushchev hurled insults in all directions and pounded his shoe on the table at a U.N. General Assembly meeting. He, of course, also had a right to say whatever he pleased. For, as the late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes once wrote, freedom of speech is claimed by the NAGA ("freedom for the thought we hate").

Mr. Louw called attention also to steps taken only last week to prevent Ghana into an authoritarian state," and added that the Louw revealed in his address. The ruler of Ghana is flirting with Moscow and Peking." He told of the far better social and economic conditions enjoyed by the Bantu and other non-white groups in South Africa as compared to the rest of Africa. He pointed out that many of the new Long A tour of the three wings of the new building was given, had denied all their citizens, so pupils could go immediately white and black—certain fundamental liberties. He didn't mince words in telling how the U.N. has become the center of intrigue and politics. He said in part:

"What does the record of the same largely from the African past fifteen years show? Instead states. Twenty members from of harmonizing the actions of other continents officially abstained, and achieving international cooperation, the annual assemblies very soon became battle grounds for conflicting national interests and rival ideologies. The annual meetings provided opportunities for international intrigue and for the formation of rival racial, geographical and ideological groups. Not content with an East-West rivalry, a so-called 'Detente' or 'the architectural third force' is in process of being established. All this is a far cry from the $100 million call from the founder of the Peculiar Construction Charter to harmonize the actions of the 100 member states that have come together. As sembly and elsewhere, pose as the champions of human rights and of human dignity, but who close their eyes to the fact that these principles are not honored in their own countries. Among these are the delegations of Russia and her satellite countries, who conveniently ignore conditions existing in Hungary, and in Russia's colonial or occupied territories.

Self-Determination

"So also, they strongly urge the right of self-determination, provided it is supplied only to territories not under their control. They vigorously protest when it is sought to be applied to the millions who are living in Soviet-dominated countries. So also when the right of self-determination is claimed by the NAGA (this year, president of the Future Teachers of America club, serves on the Nicolet yearbook staff and is interested in dramatics).

Mr. Louw called attention also to steps taken only last week to prevent Ghana into an authoritarian state," and added that the Louw revealed in his address. The ruler of Ghana is flirting with Moscow and Peking." He told of the far better social and economic conditions enjoyed by the Bantu and other non-white groups in South Africa as compared to the rest of Africa. He pointed out that many of the new Long A tour of the three wings of the new building was given, had denied all their citizens, so pupils could go immediately white and black—certain fundamental liberties. The annual meetings provided opportunities for international intrigue and for the formation of rival racial, geographical and ideological groups. All this is a far cry from the $100 million call from the founder of the Peculiar Construction Charter to harmonize the actions of the 100 member states that have come together. As

Adlai Stevenson, the U.S. ambassador, wasn't present when the action was taken but later in the day he said that, while he disagreed with Mr. Louw's views, he supported the latter's right to express them. It is unfortunate that Mr. Stevenson didn't say this before the voting took place so that some word from the largest democracy in the world might have been placed in the official record before the ill-fated voting. There were of course deputies present in the American delegation, and it also was known the day before what the African states were contemplating. So it is inexplicable that nobody in the United States delegation stood up beforehand to defend free speech in the U.N. General Assembly.

The United Nations will lose whatever respect it has had throughout the world if its boastful forum for free debate is marred by a denunciation of the right of free speech.

The U.N. is losing ground by its tactics in other ways, too. It is reported in the press, for instance, that there is in the making a deal to admit outer Mongolia, a satellite of the Communists, in exchange for Moscow's agreement not to veto the admission of Mauritania, another of the new African states. Such brazen behavior is an example of the lack of morality exhibited today in the U.N. itself.

Packers Rip Browns, 49-17, Post Fourth Straight Win

Jim Taylor Scores 4 Touchdowns, Bart Starr Completes 15 of 17 Passes in Unexpected Rout

BY ART DALEY

Post-Crescent News Service

CLEVELAND — The Packers were savage and devastating in Municipal Stadium Sunday afternoon.

They rolled up seven touchdowns and 487 yards in the process of exploding the myth of the Cleveland Browns before a horrified gathering of 75,042.

The final score of 49 to 17 was almost unbelievable. Green Bay was a tight 3-point favorite and the battle of the division favorites was supposed to be a dog-eat-dog affair.

But the Packers scored touchdowns the first three times they had their hands on the ball and then topped the cold, gray afternoon off with a 21-point fourth quarter.

Tied For Lead

The Packers thus roared to their fourth straight win since losing to Detroit in the opener, and they are now tied with San Francisco for the Western Division lead, with 4-1 marks.

Next up are the Minnesota Vikings—for back-to-back games. The first tilt is set at Minnesota Sunday, and the replay in Milwaukee the following Sunday.

The Packers were a relentless, powerful football machine Sunday in beating the Browns for the

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS 17-0 over Washington, the only Jim Taylor won his head-to-NFL club without a win while here due with Jimmy Brown and Detroit eased by Los Angeles 14-13 and Chicago's resurgent Bears opinions today as to who is the clipped Baltimore 24-10.

Kilmer, the rookie from UCLA, scored on runs of 1, 2, 5 and 20 yards as the 49ers shotgun offense riddled Minnesota's defense for 540 yards, 309 on rushing. Hugh McElhenny scored twice for the of the Cleveland Browns Sunday.

Brown, who has been undisputed king of the NFL rushers the past four years, didn't score and half behind its great defense, gained only 72 yards in 16 tries.

Erich Barnes 101-yard run with an interception of one of Eddie LeBaron's passes paced the assault, while Y. A. Tittle tossed a pair of touchdown passes to Alex Webster and Kyle Rote.

Sonny Jurgensen helped the Eagles avenge their only NFL loss, passing for touchdowns to Billy Barnes and Tommy McDonald. Bobby Joe Conrad got 49ers tied for the Western Conference lead with 4-1 records.

Tied for Lead

New York and Philadelphia are deadlocked for the lead in the an ankle in training. He didn't East after the Giants routed Dal-run the ball but gained 69 yards on five pass receptions.

Rudy Bukich passed for both Pittsburgh touchowns, eight yards to Preston Carpenter and 23 to Buddy Dial as the Steelers defense also pitched in with six interceptions.

Pittsburgh won its first game.

Four-Yard Burst

Sub quarterback Jim Ninowski passed 43 yards to Gail Cogdill and fullback Nick Pietrosante picked up most of the yardage on a 72-yard touchdown march, finally scoring on a four-yard burst. Detroit's defense then took over to help break a two-game losing string. Frank Ryan passed for the Rams score and Danny Villanueva kicked two field goals.

He missed one from the 21-yard line in the last four minutes that could have meant a victory.

Ed Brown's 84-yard screen pass play to Willie Galimore deflated the Colts, who put quarterback Johnny Unitas as a tailback in a new shotgun offense. Unitas scored Baltimore's only touchdown on a seven-yard run but Brown's eight-yard pass to John Morris and Rick Casares plunge for TDs gave the Bears more than enough.

Rick Martin Tosses Three Scoring Aerials in First Win

FOND DU LAC — Fond du Lac St. Mary Springs unleashed an aerial attack here Sunday afternoon and turned back Oshkosh Lourdes, 25-13.

Springs' Joe Brandt opened the scoring with a 17-yard return of a fumble early in the first quarter. Brandt then took a 12-yard pass from quarterback Rick Martin for another score in the same period.

Martin spotted Brandt again, in the second stanza, and connected on a 26-yard touchdown pass.

22-Yard Run

Bob Celichowski got Lourdes on the scoreboard in the third period on a 22-yard run, but Martin came back to heave a 28-yarder to Dave Pawat. Don Thielin Schmidt kicked the point, and Springs led, 25-6.

Oshkosh added one final touchdown as Tom Purtell stepped in front of a Martin pass on the Springs 12 and went all the way to score. Purtell was successful in his run for the extra-point.

The Ledgers completed 12 of 25 passes for 137 yards in winning their first game of the season. Martin connected on 10 of 23 attempts.

LITTLE CHUTE — St. John High School scored the first two times it had the ball and went on to post a 33-19 Fox Valley Catholic Conference football victory over Marinette Central Catholic Sunday afternoon.

With a large homecoming crowd looking on, the Dutchmen had little trouble in building up a 25-0 ball. Van Asten took off on a 24-yard lead while moving to their third yard scamper into the end zone. The Chuters were offside; and on the second attempt from the 15, Joe Verkuilen's boot was wide.

After failing to advance, the Chuters punted and the Chuters started a drive from their own 43.

Jim Van Asten and Verkuilen reeled off a pair of good runs to put the ball on the Marinette 26.

Midway in the second period, Van Asten broke loose for a 45-yard touchdown run around end.

The next time the Chuters' point try was wide, Dennis Mahn on the next play, Verkuilen added the point for a 23-10 lead.

San Diego, Denver Score AFL Wins

2 Late Field Goals May Have Saved Bronco Coach's Job

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS American Football League for San Diego and K. S. (Bud) Adams. The oldie that "winning isn't everything—it is the only thing" owner of the losing Houston Oilers.

San Diego just goes out and wins them all so there'll be no doubt it.

Adams demands that his team win or else there's a new coach—a tie won't get the job done.

Not even if it's a 31-31 tie that turns into about the wildest, most thrilling offensive struggle of the year.

Adams reportedly told his Coach Lou Rymkus that he had to beat Boston last Friday night or he was through. Hence the firing of Rymkus since there was only a tie.

Another coach, Frank Filchock of Denver, may have escaped the axe when Jack Hill kicked two field goals in the final three

"I don't think the boys were aware of the fact," said 49er Coach Red Hickey, whose team had just completed a come-from-behind 38-24 victory over the Minnesota Vikings.

"The boys were just thinking about winning the game and staying in a tie with Green Bay for the Western Conference lead," Hickey continued.

The mark the 49ers were shooting for was a string of three consecutive shutout games. NFL officials said if San Francisco had shut out the Vikings, it would have been the first time in 27 years any team had turned the team feat.

Sevein Shutouts The Detroit Lions started out the 1934 season with seven straight shutouts.

Leo Nornellini, anchor man of the 49ers forward wall, upheld his coach when he said:

"We just went out there to win the game. This is the first I've heard of any record."

Minnesota chilled any chance the 49ers had for the mark in the Dallas' hopes. It dropped the Tex-

Notre Dame-Spartan Clash to Highlight Collegiate Schedule

Texas Carries Perfect Record Into Arkansas Tilt

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Don't go away...the fun's just started. A college football season already replete with its fair quota of excitement and the surprise steams toward the midway point, picking up momentum like a spring-loose fullback.

This Saturday's program, for example, offers a number of highlights. Notre Dame, returned to elite status in a hurry, takes on Michigan State in a meeting of all-winning teams powered by regiments of stylish runners and lines to match. Texas carries its perfect record into Arkansas, where the giant-killing Razorbacks are waiting. Mississippi's nationally top rated Rebels play Tulane and third-ranked Alabama meets Tennessee in Southeastern Conference features and Iowa-Wisconsin and Ohio State-Northwestern top the Big Ten card.

Michigan State and Notre Dame built up pressure for their forthcoming collision with impressive victories Saturday. The fifth-ranked Spartans smothered Michigan (No. 6) 28-0 behind Pete Smith's smart quarterbacking, a swift and strong attack paced by George Saines, and a big mobile line. The Irish, eighth nationally, utilized 22 backs in rolling over Southern California 30-0.

Stage Surprise

Arkansas staged a Southwest Conference surprise for the second week in a row, moving into a 16-0 lead on the passing of George McKinney and Billy Moore and tripping ninth-ranked Baylor 23-13. The Razorbacks upended Texas Christian the week before, and Texas Tech kept the Horned Frogs reeling by stopping them Saturday night 10-0.

Texas' fourth-ranked Longhorns with an offense led by Mike Cotten, and Jim Saxon, clouted Oklahoma for the fourth successive year, 28-7. Ole Miss, showing off its platoons of talent on the ground and overhead, crushed Houston 47-7 with a 34-point second half. Pat Trammell guided "Bama" to its 26-7 victory over North Carolina State, passing for two touchdowns and running for another.

Iowa, second in the nation although riddled by injuries, displayed its depth as Matt Szykowny took over for quarterback Wilburn Hollis and helped the Hawkeyes to a 27-8 decision over Indiana. Seventh-ranked Ohio State overwhelmed Illinois 44-0, with All-America fullback Bob Ferguson cashing in on four touchdown plunges at short range.

North Carolina bounced 10th-ranked Maryland, 14-8, in a game of bobble-the-ball. All touchdowns were set up by fumbles, and the Tarheels recovered two others of their own in the end zone for their touchdowns.

The plant engineered by Greeley and Hansen is designed to accommodate a population of 71,000.

The additional facilities will remove 75 to 80 per cent of the organic matter in sewage effluent, the percentage recommended by the state.

The present primary treatment plant removes only 26 per cent of the organic matter before it is discharged into the Fox River.

By more fully treating the effluent, less oxygen will be taken out of the water, which means the degree of pollution will be less and the condition of the water will be improved.

Committeemen Set Goals

Democrats Plan to Raise Money, Get More Members

EAU CLAIRE — The Democratic State Administrative Committee, meeting Sunday in the wake of the state party convention, adopted a membership goal of 50,160 and a fund raising target of $395,327 for the election year of 1962.

In adopting a "blueprint for victory" of Patrick Lucey, state party chairman, the committee also endorsed an ambitious political statewide census, a series of regional issues conferences and $25 a plate Jefferson-Jackson Day dinners next year.

Lucey said Republicans were doing a better job of locating their voters and turning them out. This has been true in non-presidential years, he said.

Better Efforts

"If our 1962 performance in this department is no better than the efforts of 1954 and 1958, you can be certain we will lose," he said.

The four regional fund raising dinners will be in addition to the established statewide fund raising affair. Lucey's estimates of the related events would raise the fund total to $491,029.

The regional meeting for northeastern Wisconsin would be in Green Bay in the form of a testimonial dinner for Atty. Gen. John Reynolds.

Committee's Goals

The membership goals include 1,327 in Brown County and 1,047 in Outagamie County. The fund drives will include $12,500 in Brown County and $10,179 in Outagamie.

Mrs. Shirley Cherkasky, Appleton, was reappointed to the 10th of Dollars for Democrats state chairman in 1962, and Mrs. Marian McBride, new party vice-chairman, was appointed chairman of the editorial board for the party's state newspaper.

Owen Monfils, Eighth District chairman, was appointed chairman of the state committee's budget committee.

The committee picked Sheboygan for the 1962 state convention June 23-24.

1961 Football Death Toll Rises to 20

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — A Savannah State College football player died Friday of injuries received in practice, bringing the nation's 1961 football death toll to 20.

Associated Press records show four other college players, two semi-pro players and 13 high school players killed by football injuries.

The Savannah State player, Nellen, "froze" them for the game. He was in bed from the time he arrived in Cleveland Saturday afternoon until shortly before going out to the stadium.

He was really laying out there, by my defense," Nellen said to the other Jim (Brown).

Brown was getting hit pretty hard

Taylor said he had met Brown just once — "out at the pro bowl that," Ringo said, recalling the game. He's a fine guy," Taylor

He was injured during a practice session Oct. 5.

The death occurred on the eve of Savannah State's game with Morris College Saturday at Sumter, S.C.

lor and Hornung came out with a few limps and Bill Forester hurt his neck.

Witness to the show was Commissioner Pete Rozelle who arrived from New York Sunday morning.

Shortly before the bus left for the stadium Sunday morning, Bill Quinlan, perhaps a "bit" keyed, sat down to a cup of coffee in the hotel coffee shop.

One sip, announced that "it's too hot," and got up and left. Quinlan, Willie Davis, Hank Jordan and Lew Carpenter, the ex-Browns, were extremely happy.

"I would not have asked for a better ending," said Quinlan. "It was great to win in the home town. I have a lot of friends here.

Maybe they aren't friends any more," laughed Davis.

Three players sustained injuries but they are not serious. Tay again," Taylor tied a Packer record.

"I never played a better game in my life. Our blocking made it easy. Our script myself," said Quinlan. "It was great to win in the home town. I have a lot of friends here.

Maybe they aren't friends any more," laughed Davis.

Useful Category

Elsewhere in the upset category — Dick Heydt's placekicking provided Army's margin of victory in its 10-6 conquest of Penn State. California capitalized on a blocked punt for a touchdown in the closing minutes and topped Washington 21-14. Two third quarter touchdowns by Roger Holdin sky enabled West Virginia to overcome Pitt 20-6. Sophomore fullback Al Butts sparked Columbia as it ended Yale's eleven-game winning string, 11-0. And a bringing the personnel records in Georgia boy named Doug Messer made good on an 18-yard field goal, giving Florida State a 3-0 tie as yet in the physical training or loading details. The men smoothly up to this point," Meyer said. He heads the task of the men's game and probably never to date.

Wallner was told he was fired by Doug Suman, vice president and general manager.

Goes Into Business

Lemmon was Houston's defensive coach last year but resigned this spring to go into the sporting goods business near his native Chicago.

The Houston Post said Lemmon was all but hired Wednesday three days before Rymkus was fired — with the understanding the deal was off should Houston have beaten Boston badly.

But Houston managed only a night's rest as charge of quarters

31-31 the Friday night despite a

457-yard AFL record passing attack by Jacky Lee.

Lemmon has coached at every level from high school to professional, including tours with Notre Dame and the Chicago Cardinals as an assistant.

Wallner was told he was fired by Doug Suman, vice president and general manager.

Tax Revision Talks Look Encouraging

Party Leaders Agree
On Side Issues
Involved in Debate

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Attainment of the tax revision goal to which both political parties in the divided state government are pledged, remains highly uncertain.

Encouraging is the word for the beginning of the negotiations during the week between Gov. Gaylord Nelson and spokesmen for the Democratic legislative minorities, and the leaders of the Republican legislative majorities whose wariness is based upon the governor's rejection of their earlier tax revision bill.

There was an apparent meeting of the minds on some of the side issues involved—issues that would be important enough if they stood alone—but which are subsidiary to the central question.

Question Remains

What will the governor propose in the way of a basic new revenue source to balance the state budget and achieve the other tax adjustments, such as property tax reduction, that both parties seek?

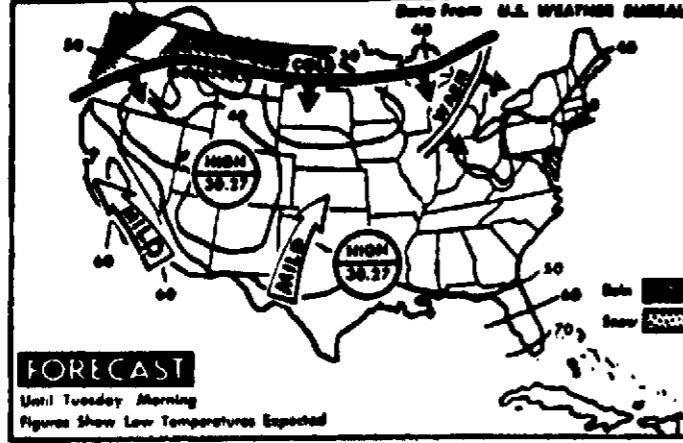

Until he discloses his plan, and until the Republicans indicate that it is acceptable, the talks will not be conclusive. Until there is agreement on the basic issue, the discussions and even the apparent agreements on the incidental questions will be without final meaning.

The Republicans are determined that the kind of tax revision that ought to be achieved will require a new revenue source to produce more money than can be safely or wisely extracted through the expansion of the state income tax rates.

They are dedicated to tax revision by means of a sales tax in some form.

Are Signs

There are plentiful signs that the governor knows their resolve. If he is inclined to agree that the sales tax is required to underwrite basic tax revision, but that

A Shiocton youth was sentenced to 15 days in Outagamie County Jail today after Municipal Judge Gustave Keller learned the youth's father was prepared to pay a $150 fine for drunken driving. The youth was also fined $50.

New Drug Fight Creates Many More Headaches Than Controversial Pills Can Cure; Local Comment Indifferent

Proposed Bill Would Change Sherman, Food Act, Patent Code

BY FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new round of a prolonged battle royal — perhaps the bitterest yet — is coming up on the issue of whether drug prices and profits are too high.

Starting today, the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee will open a fresh chapter of hearings on a hotly controversial bill to place the drug manufacturing industry under tighter federal police control.

The measure, introduced by Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., is an outgrowth of nearly two existing law is good enough if years of stormy and widely-publicized investigations by the subcommittee in Congress will only vote enough money to let the food and drug administration do the policing and inspection job needed.

The bill calls for changes in the Sherman Antitrust Act, the patent code, and the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act. Backers say the intent is "to lower drug prices to consumers and to improve the protection afforded under present law."

Goals Outlined

Kefauver's announced goals are to slap down allegedly monopolistic practices by big companies which he contends have grossly inflated prescription drug prices: force more competition among drug makers and enable small Kefauver's drug patent proposal manufacturers to compete on a level playing field with the large rights to a new drug from the ones; and make sure that medicines are safe and that doctors any kind— to three. the bill would greatly reduce drug prices and incomplete research.

Kefauver has refused.

Earlier drug hearings brought hot disputes between industry spokesmen and Kefauver and some of the subcommittee staff — and also some bitter rows between the Democratic majority of the subcommittee and the Republican minority.

But several individual doctors retorted in testimony that an hope of a cleanup without tough government policing is dim.

Proponents of the Kefauver bill were heartened by testimony given recently by Health and Welfare Secretary Abraham Ribicoff. Up to that time there had been no indication of the Kennedy administration's stand on the measure. There had been unofficial reports that Ribicoff might introduce a rival bill.

Ribicoff came out strongly for a tightened drug licensing law—notably on the issue of requiring drug makers to prove the effectiveness, as well as the safety, of drugs before they can be marketed.

The American Medical Association opposed some key features of the bill—notably, the one under which the Food and Drug Administration, before approving drugs, would investigate whether they actually worked. At present, the FDA checks only to see if they are safe.

Dr. Leonard W. Larson, AMA president, termed Kefauver's statements an unwarranted slur on the AMA and urged that Ke-auver retract his implied charge.

Kefauver has refused.

During the July hearings, the public stand of the AMA on the drug bill was that the medical profession, working with the drug manufacturers, could clean up any unsavory conditions in the drug business—and should judge for itself whether a new drug has merit.
